SHE TOLD A WOMAN HUBBY WOULD RUN

SECRETARY CARLISLE'S WIFE
MIXES IN POLITICS.

She is Said to Have Written a Letter To a Nashville Lady Saying That The Secretary Would Be a Candidate for the Presidential Nomination in 1896.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 5.—It is reported that Mrs. Carlisle wrote to a lady friend here that the secretary would be a candidate for the nomination for president.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 5.—General Simon Bolivar Buckner, in a card in his home paper, the Hart County News, announces his withdrawal from the race for United States senator. He states that in many legislative districts personal interests are arrayed against party success and that candidates supposed to be favorable to him are nevertheless a target for opposition in the party.

Prohibitionists Name a Ticket.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 5.—After being in session over two days the New York State Prohibition convention late yesterday afternoon closed its labors in a far less harmonious condition than when it convened Monday evening. The platform was the bone of contention. The committee reported one with planks sufficient to satisfy either a republican or democratic assembly and this was finally adopted. The nominations were made in ten minutes. They are as follows: Secretary of state, William W. Smith; controller, Fred B. Devendorf; treasurer, William R. Rathbun; attorney-general, W. Martin Jones; engineer and surveyor, W. R. Miles; justice Court of Appeals, E. C. English. Volney B. Cushing of Maine addressed at great length the Prohibition State convention. He argued that all political parties must give way until the great principle of prohibition is forever settled, and added that prohibition is the foremost principle now before the country. Chairman Mead called for $7,200 for campaign purposes, which was subscribed in open convention.

Vice-Presidential Party Home.

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 5.—Vice-President Stevenson and Mrs. Stevenson and their two daughters, Misses Julia and Letitia, reached home yesterday from their trip to Alaska, which was begun Aug. 3, on which day they departed from Bloomington. The trip was undertaken especially for the good of the health of Miss Julia, which had not been good for some time. She is greatly improved, and all the members of the party are in the best of health and spirits and greatly delighted with their long and interesting journey.

Nebraska Anti-Silver Democrats.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 5.—The straight administration democratic convention meets here to-day. Many delegates are already on the ground. Delegates from fourteen frontier counties are in the city. As many as twenty-three counties have already reported at headquarters. The convention will be called to order at 3 o'clock. M. D. Harter, of Ohio, will address the convention.

MRS. FLEMING'S CASE.

Woman Charged with Murdering Her Mother Remains Unmoved.

New York, Sept. 5.—The arrest of Mrs. Mary Alice Fleming for the supposed connection with the death of her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Bliss, has caused a great sensation. The accused woman seems unmoved and the least interested of all those whom curiosity or duty has interested in the case. She is still in the Tombs. The coroner's inquest will probably begin tomorrow. Until then no report of the result of Chemist Scheele's analysis of the contents of Mrs. Bliss' stomach will be made public. According to the best information obtainable the poison found was in quantities sufficient to kill a horse. The drug used, it is believed, was antimony. When Mrs. Fleming is taken into court one of the witnesses against her will be her 8-year-old daughter, Grace. The police have evidence the child carried the broth containing the poison from the Colonial Hotel to the unfortunate woman for whom it was intended.

Gold Reserve Kept Intact.

New York, Sept. 5.—The bond syndicate yesterday turned over to the sub-treasury enough gold to raise the reserve above the limit. Tuesday and the day before $2,800,000 was withdrawn from shipment, but as the syndicate deposited $2,500,000 just at the close of business, the reserve is again intact. The bond syndicate deposited with the government about $12,000,000 over and above the amount which was paid for the bonds. One million, seven hundred thousand dollars in gold will be shipped to-day.

Will Appeal to Supreme Court.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5.—The Circuit court yesterday decided that taxes assessed against the express companies doing business in the state by the state board of tax commissioners cannot be collected. The board last year assessed the companies at $1,357,975. The assessment was made under the law of 1893, and was on the mileage basis. The court holds that the companies can be assessed on their tangible property only. The attorney-general will appeal the case to the Supreme court.

TURKEY IS WARNED.

England Has Spoken in No Uncertain Terms.

Constantinople, Sept. 5.—It is officially announced here that Rustem Pasha, Turkish ambassador to England, has telegraphed to the foreign minister that he has had an interview relative to the Armenian question with Lord Salisbury, whom he had assured that the sublime porte is not opposed to

SULTAN OF TURKEY.

The reforms proposed by the powers signatory to the treaty of Berlin, but that Turkey could not permit control of Armenia by an international commission. Lord Salisbury replied that under the circumstances it would be useless to continue the interview. If, he said, the porte persists in its refusal, the powers will undertake the suggested reforms and rest satisfied. If, however, the porte continues to resist, Lord Salisbury added, it would be a signal for the dismemberment of Turkey. The dispatch has caused the greatest uneasiness here.

TO TALK AT CHATTANOOGA.

Orators Selected for the Dedication of the Monuments.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 5.—It is now given out as certain that the Society of the Army of the Cumberland will hold its reunion here after its adjournment in Cincinnati on the night of Wednesday, Sept. 18, upon which occasion Gen. Charles F. Manderson will address the society. This reunion will be held in the big tent used last June by the Epworth leaguers, which has a seating capacity of 10,000, with room for 2,000 others. On the following night the Society of the Army of the Tennessee will have its reunion. Gen. Granville M. Dodge presiding. The orators will be Gen. Oliver O. Howard, United States army, and Gen. Joseph Wheeler of Alabama. Friday night, Sept. 20, the exercises under the tent canvas will be held under the auspices of the Army of Northern Virginia and of the Army of the Potomac. Gen. Walthall of Mississippi will preside. The orators will be Gen. Orlando Smith and Gov. William C. Oats, of Alabama. Gov. Altgeld will also deliver an oration.

HAVE FOUND A MOTIVE.

Durrant's Death Warrant Thought to Have Been Discovered.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 5.—The Durrant trial was resumed yesterday, and the court room was again crowded. Dr. Barrett, who performed the autopsy on the body of Blanche Lamont, Durrant's alleged victim, was the first witness. The Examiner says the prosecution has a witness whose testimony will show a motive for the murders. The name of the witness is Clarence Wolfe, and it is said that he will swear that on April 2, one day before Blanche Lamont was murdered, he and Theodore Durrant held a conversation, and Durrant commented upon the beauty of Blanche in a tone of exultation and not of respect. He assured Wolfe that she was a pure girl and that he intended to rob her of that virtue which she so prized.

Johnson Is Twice Defeated.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Yesterday in the mile professional event John S. Johnson was beaten by Sanger and O'Connor. The surprise of the day came in the two-mile professional handicap. C. J. Appel, a Rochester man, who has been in the ranks two or three years without doing much riding, started on the 235-yard mark, maintained a big lead, and finished rods ahead of his wheel and did not finish.

Killed by His Father-in-Law.

Velasco, Tex., Sept. 5.—Thomas Sweeney, a planter, residing near Columbia, was called to his gate at 7 o'clock yesterday morning by his father-in-law, Wilson Davis, and shot, being killed instantly. Davis used a double-barreled shotgun.

Mexican Towns Washed Away.

City of Mexico, Sept. 5.—The town of Abasco, a place of 800 inhabitants, was entirely washed away Sunday afternoon, but fifteen houses remaining. Three miles away, at the village of Rodriguez, every house was carried away.

Filibusterers for Hawaii.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 5.—Secret agents of the overthrown government of Hawaii have lately been in Chicago gathering forces for a filibustering expedition. The number in the city is variously reported between 300 and 500 men. Steps will at once be taken to put a stop to the movement.

THREE MEN CRUSHED BY TONS OF GRAIN

GRANARY COLLAPSES UNDER ITS HEAVY LOAD.

Mansfield Boy Burns $4000 Worth of His Father's Property in Anger—Madison Loses a Chance at $100,000 Worth of Made Land—Cash Pay Day at Two Rivers.

Richfield, Sept. 5.—A large granary on Paul Bast's farm, near here, collapsed under the pressure of a thousand bushels of grain. Paul Bast, Phil Neidlein and Gustav Casper were caught under timbers and all were badly crushed. Casper is in a critical condition.

Angry Boy Burns Out His Father's

Marshallfield, Sept. 5.—In a fit of anger Louis Reed, the son of a prominent farmer near here, set fire to his father's barn. The buildings and all the grain and machinery were consumed. The loss will be four thousand dollars. The boy had quarreled with his father. His mother is nearly crazy at the boy's action.

Madison Loses a $100,000 Opening.

Madison, Sept. 5.—This morning Judge Clementson sitting here decided against the city in a case involving property rights in $100,000 worth of land near the most desirable residence portion of the city along the lake shore. The city sought to enjoin a company from filling in and selling the land as the city claimed it.

Cash Pay Days Probable.

Two Rivers, Sept. 5.—There is a probability that the strike here will be settled today. The manufacturing company offered to give the men cash pay days six months hence, but the proposition was rejected. Another conference was called for this afternoon, and it is believed a settlement will be made.

TRAGEDY AT OMAHA.

Paul Miller Shot and Killed by His Brother-in-Law.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 5.—Yesterday afternoon Paul Miller was shot and killed by his brother-in-law, August Saolwein. Miller, according to the story of Saolwein, came over from his home near by and attempted to pick a quarrel with him. The elder Saolwein was then set upon and when Mrs. Saolwein came out her son-in-law said he would kill her. Young Saolwein returned from the house with a revolver and fired two shots into Miller as the latter started for Mrs. Saolwein. Miller was killed and young Saolwein gave himself up. Mrs. Saolwein says that Miller was in the act of striking her when her son fired the first shot, when Miller turned and made for the boy, who shot the second time, which proved fatal. The mother says it was an act of self-defense.

British Ship Missing.

London, Sept. 5.—Anxiety is felt at Belfast for the safety of the ship Lord Downshire, which left Iquique last May, since which time nothing has been heard of the vessel. There were thirty-two persons on board. It is feared this may be the ship which was sunk in collision with the British ship Prince Oscar on the night of July 13 about 500 miles south of Cape St. Roque. All of the crew of the ship with which the Prince Oscar was in collision are supposed to have been drowned, as were also four of the crew of the Prince Oscar, which sank after the collision.

Steal Cattle from Indians.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 5.—J. W. Smith, a well-known Wyoming business man, was arrested by United States Marshal McDermott at Newcastle on Saturday, charged by Captain Watson, agent for the Crow Indians, with killing and stealing range cattle belonging to his wards. Thefts of cattle belonging to the Crow Indians have been going on for some time and the agent now claims to have evidence implicating a number of white men in northern Wyoming as the guilty parties.

CHANGED DRIVERS IN THE BIG MATCH

PATCHEN AND GENTRY JOCKEYED AT PHILADELPHIA.

Judges Scent Crookedness and Declare "No Heat." Patchen Was Not Being Driven to Win By Curry, Who Was Ordered Out of the Sulky.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 5.—Joe Patchen won the big special pace from John R. Gentry yesterday after seven heats had been gone. The race was such a fraud from beginning to end that the judges had to be on the lookout all the time. John R. Gentry won the first two heats in 2:06 1/4 and 2:07 1/4 respectively. In the third heat, however, Joe Patchen finished right at his throat-latch in 2:03, and it was apparent to the most casual observer that the black fellow could have won handsily with a little more urging. The judges declared it no heat and gave Mr. Curry to understand that he was expected to do his best to win from then on. He kept his word in the fourth heat and landed Joe Patchen first by several lengths in 2:11. In the fifth heat Patchen left his feet, and the son of Ashland Wilkes won by several lengths in 2:16. The judges seemed to think that Curry had pulled Joe Patchen and put John Dickerson up behind the horse when the sixth heat was called. The latter had no trouble in making Patchen win. Curry will probably be fined $500 when the judges take his case under consideration, and will be suspended until it is paid.

BOSTON'S FIRE WAS A HOT ONE.

Cannard Badly Scorchd By the Blaze in the Hub Yesterday.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 5.—One of the most disastrous fires that has occurred along Boston's water front in years started on the docks at East Boston yesterday, and before it could be controlled, destroyed three piers, two large storehouses, a freight shed, fifteen loaded freight cars and a large quantity of freight and slightly damaged a number of dwelling houses.

The fire was discovered on the end of the Boston & Albany railroad pier in the freight shed No. 1, known as "Old Round Top," about 5 o'clock, but an alarm was not given until 5:30 and at that hour the structure, which was a one-story building several hundred feet in length, was a mass of flames. The steamer Burton was destroyed here. The fire spread to the adjoining docks, at one end of which the Cunard steamer Cephalonia was moored. Before the steamship could be towed out of danger her sides were ablaze, one of her lifeboats was partly destroyed and her rigging was on fire. The flames were extinguished, however, as soon as she was anchored and she was not badly damaged. The big three-story warehouses Nos. 4 and 5, owned by the Boston & Albany railroad were almost entirely destroyed, with their contents. The loss on the freight stored in them will be very heavy, but no accurate estimate of the damage on this score can yet be made. Fifteen freight cars, most of them loaded, were lying on the tracks. Almost all of them were totally destroyed with their contents. Piers Nos. 1, 4 and 5, on which the burned storehouses were built, were reduced to a mass of charred timbers sticking out of the water.

A light wind carried the blazing embers from the conflagration into the tenement-house district near by, and three tenement houses were partly destroyed and damaged to the extent of about $5,000. Three smaller dwellings were also damaged. Shortly after 9 o'clock the big storehouse No. 8 was in flames and the fight of the firemen was directed to this point.

At 10:30 the fire was under control. The smoke was unusually dense and suffocating, and many of the firemen were overcome, but not seriously injured. The cause of the fire is unknown.

It was at first thought the loss would not exceed $150,000, but a careful estimate indicates that the loss will reach $300,000, and possibly more. In the sheds destroyed were stored 5,000 bales of sisal grass, twenty carloads of hay, nearly fifty carloads of flour in sacks, sixteen carloads of merchandise and 7,000 bales of hemp and wool, all valued at over $170,000. The wharves and buildings destroyed were valued at $130,000.

Capt. Sumner on Trial.

Brooklyn, Sept. 5.—The trial by court martial of Captain George W. Sumner of the United States cruiser Columbia on charges growing out of the investigation just concluded regarding the injuries sustained by the vessel at the Southampton dry dock in July last, was begun at the Brooklyn navy yard yesterday. As Capt. Sumner has pleaded guilty to the charges preferred it is expected the trial will be brief.

Meet Next Year at Buffalo.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 5.—The American Association for the Advancement of Science at yesterday's meeting unanimously voted to meet next year at Buffalo, beginning Aug. 24 and continuing one week. Edward C. Cope of Philadelphia was chosen president. The last of the sessions was held yesterday and the convention practically adjourned.

BUILDING FALLS ON WORKMEN.

State Fair Structure at Springfield Collapses—Two People Killed.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 5.—At 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the west wall, near the southwest corner of the new Machinery Hall building, at the state fair grounds, spread in such a manner as to cause the roof to cave in, burying nine men under the tons of debris. All but two were taken out alive. The dead are:

HARRY HOBSON, plumber, aged 30 and married, crushed and suffocated.

The injured are:

James Parke, plumber, married but two weeks.

Charles Brownell, water boy, aged 13, both legs and arms and several ribs broken; can not live.

Nelson Williamson, carpenter, both legs broken.

Samuel Davenport, boss carpenter, badly injured by falling bricks.

Fred Beard, carpenter, arm broken. James Clancy, leg broken.

The accident happened without the slightest warning. It was probably due to the fact that the work had been pushed, owing to the near approach of the fair. The heavy rain Tuesday night, no doubt, loosened the plastering. Some eighteen men had just left that portion of the roof a few moments before it collapsed. The damage is estimated at about $2,500.

FIVE WORKMEN KILLED.

Asphyxiated by Gas in a Cellar at Providence, R. I.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 5.—Five employees of the Providence Gas company met death by asphyxiation in the cellar of the Westfield street gas holder yesterday afternoon. The dead are:

COTTON, 26 years old, single.

BILEY, 45, married, with six children.

M'MANUS, married.

BURNS, 19.

M'NAMEE, 36, single, Brook street.

Leaking gas had been detected in the holder for several days, and yesterday the company sent six men and a foreman to repair the leak. The men had returned from dinner at 1 o'clock, and, going down the wooden stairs which led from the entrance of the holder to the cellar below, began to work on the broken valve. They disconnected it and tied a cloth bag about the large main, when the bag gave way and an immense volume of gas rushed out. They were instantly overcome, with the exception of one, who managed to grope up the stairs, where the fresh air enabled him to recover sufficiently to reach the street. Foreman Allen took a hand in the excavation and was overcome before the digging had proceeded far. He was taken to the Rhode Island hospital in the ambulance, which arrived a short time before. His life is despaired of.

IN JAIL AT RICHMOND, MO.

Dr. Fraker Steadily Adheres to His Original Story.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 5.—After a night and day spent in the county jail, Dr. George W. Fraker was taken to Richmond, Mo., last evening. In that city Fraker will finally be brought into court to meet the charges against him. In all his interviews Dr. Fraker steadily adheres to his former statement that he did not conspire to defraud the insurance companies nor any of his relatives. Mrs. Addie Radall, a dermatologist, has added a peculiar phase to the case, by declaring that a person who visited her rooms when Fraker was supposed to be in Kansas City, and who asked to have some superfluous hair removed from his face, was none other than the doctor, traveling in the guise of a woman. Her description of her would-be patient, who, she says, left without receiving the treatment, tallies exactly with that of the doctor. Mrs. Radall's suspicions of the sex of the person led her to decide to call the police, when the patient left.

Our Public Debt Increases.

Washington, Sept. 5.—The public debt statement issued by the treasury department yesterday shows the public debt on the last day of August, less cash in the treasury, to have been $942,924,323, an increase for the month of $2,815,413.

Rain Storm Ruins Corn.

Vincennes, Ind., Sept. 5.—A terrific wind and rain storm passed over this section of country at an early hour yesterday morning, doing great damage to the corn crop and leveling many out-buildings. Cornfields look as if a roller had gone over them. At Allison, Ill., the postoffice building was literally torn to pieces. No loss of life is reported.

ISHPEMING MINES RUN FULL FORCE

OLD MEN BACK IN THE SHAFTS TODAY.

Operators Agree to the Scale of Wages Demanded by The Strikers—Fred Braastad Gave In Yesterday Afternoon—Small Strike in a Whiting Machine Shop.]

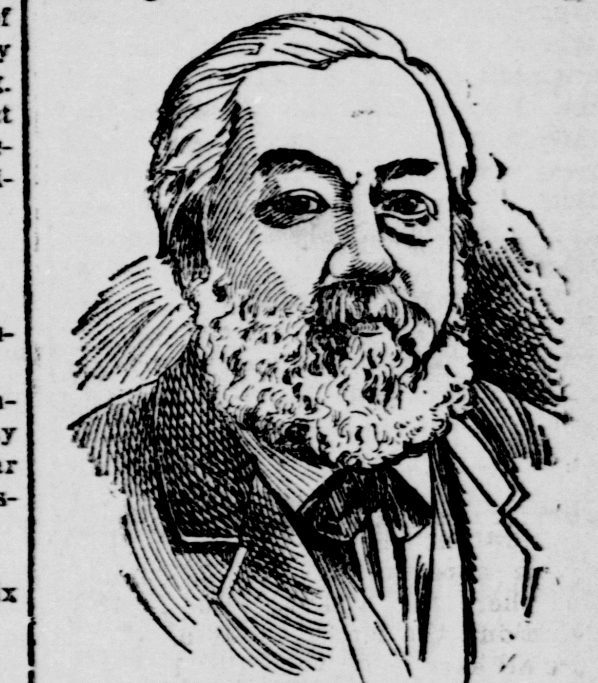

Ishpeming, Sept. 5.—The mines resumed with full force today. Fred Braastad, operator of the Winthrop mines, yesterday granted the full scale of wages demanded by the miners' union. He will resume operations at the open pit, employing about 100 men, and steam shovel work will also start. Mr. Braastad will not resume operations at his underground mine for a week or so, as some repairs to the tracks, etc., are necessary. Braastad's entire working force is about 300.

Whiting, Ind., Sept. 5.—Yesterday afternoon when the Standard Oil company's whistle blew to quit work at this place all the men in the machine shop, numbering about 200, were told to go to the main office and get their time. The order was a result of a disagreement on wages. The company refuses to make any explanation, except that the shops have been ordered to shut down by the authorities above them and that they are closed indefinitely.

MAY BE AMBASSADOR.

Consul General at Paris Talked Of to Succeed Eustis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5.—It is believed by prominent Indiana democrats that Samuel E. Morss, editor of the Indianapolis Sentinel and consul-general to Paris, has been called home by the state department in order that he may be consulted about the Waller case. State Senator Kern left Mr. Morss in Paris ten days before the latter sailed. At that time it was not Mr. Morss' intention to return to the United States this year. There is said to be a private letter here from Mr. Morss indicating that President Cleveland desired to have a talk with him about the Waller case. Mr. Morss arrived in New York last Saturday and has been in Washington two days. A democrat who returned from Washington last week says he would not be surprised if Morss succeeded Eustis as ambassador.

AMBASSADOR EUSTIS.

CYCLONE IN TENNESSEE.

Each Damage Done by Wind and Rain at Huntingdon.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 5.—The storm which visited Huntingdon yesterday was the severest in its history. Its course was northwest, and it was accompanied by torrents of rain. The Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway depot was completely wrecked, with the exception of the telegraph office, in which several persons were seated. The debris from the freight department fell in such a shape as to protect it. The roof was blown from the main southern normal university building. A number of business blocks were unroofed and stocks destroyed. The loss is heavy.

Lynchers Were Without a Leader.

Cairo, Ill., Sept. 5.—There arrived here about midnight Tuesday night about thirty men from Anna, Ill., who came, it is said, to lynch John Jones, in jail here charged with the murder of Mrs. Mendenhall at Anna about a week since. He was brought here the night of the murder for safe keeping. The mob seemed to lack a leader. Sheriff Miller and his deputies were on guard, which doubtless had a cooling effect on the mob, who returned to their homes on the early train in the morning.

Indiana Liquor Dealers Confer.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 5.—Representatives of the State Liquor Dealers' association were in session at the Hotel English yesterday. The Nicholson law was the principal theme of discussion. The delegates will endeavor to have the temperance measure repealed at the next session of the legislature, or an entirely new suit will be filed to test the measure as a whole. The meetings will continue for several days.

Killed His Enemy's 2-Year-Old Child.

Lockport, Ill., Sept. 5.—Fred Jop had an old grudge against Antonio Pozanski, and, seeing him on the street, fired at him. The shot intended for the father missed, killing his 2-year-old girl. Jop was brought to the jail in this city to keep him from being lynched.

SAY SPOOKS LIVE IN AN OLD HOUSE

SPRING BROOK PEOPLE HAVE A "HAUNT."

Uncanny sights and sounds in the Old Burr Robbins Place That Made Residents Fearful of Passing There in the Night—Horse Leg as Chicken Feed the Cause.

Spring Brook people have a "haunt."

Queer noises at night; pattering footsteps; groans; and uncanny flickering lights.

These are the symptoms. The house that is said to be the abiding place of the spook, is the "old Burr Robbins house" near the main street end of Eastern avenue. For a long time they didn't know the place was haunted, but one night a small boy who was passing, noticed a light flame up and then go out. At the same time a long drawn out groan came gurgling out from the darkened doorway and the lad saw ghostly figures flitting about. He didn't take a second look, but flew down the street as if Satan himself was the standing judge. Then he told "the folks." They laughed at him and the iron entered his soul. To be spooked was one thing but to be laughed at afterward was "rubbing it in." Then he grew brave.

"Come back with me and see for yourself," he said and the crowd finally consented.

Saw Uncanny Things.

The boy led the way and the party walked on tiptoe. Nothing could be seen about the big house in the trees that sets back from the road, but when they reached the front gate that used to swing back to let the former proprietor of the "greatest show on earth" pass through, they all started back. A shadowy form arose from its reclining position on the front porch, and slid silently around the corner. Then came a long drawn groan that seemed to emanate at the open cellar window. From the old "animal house," where the snakes and the flames and other zoological features of the show were kept, came an answering roar. An old looking animal leaped from the darkness that surrounded a big tree, and sped away toward the river. Then a light flickered in an upper window and went out as suddenly as it had appeared.

"Now do you believe me?" called the boy, but he gave no answer for the whole party was making for home as fast as feet could carry them.

What the Police Think. "Of course the house is haunted," said a citizen when asked about the popular superstition. Nobody has lived there for a long time. And then didn't the family, that did live there all have the diphtheria because they hauled the leg of a dead horse into the cellar for the chickens to eat? It's haunted I tell you and don't you haul your freight by there in the night unless you want to get the gaff thrown into you. That's my advice."

But Chief Acheson looked at it in a different light. "Some day I will surround that place and catch a few tramps," he explained. "It's a nice handy place for them to put in a night and they know that if they groan people won't bother them. They don't make it headquarters, but occasionally a stray hobo puts up there over night. Then I noticed that the old family cat refused to leave when the family did, and is still picking up a living about the neighborhood and sleeping in the old home-stead. There's no ghosts there, although some people think there are."

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL.

It's a pity Lincoln J. Carter's new play, "The Tornado" could not remain with us longer. It demonstrated Mr. Carter's remarkable ability for scenic effects, and Havlin's could have crowded houses for a month with such a play.—The Dramatic Times, June 10th, 1893.

One of the realistic features of the great "Tornado" scene in Lincoln J. Carter's new play, "The Tornado," is real lightning which flashes and illuminates the scene all through its awful intensity. This is supplied by a system of storage batteries, carried by company.

KEY MONEY NEEDED BY UNCLE SAMUEL

POSTMASTER WILSON TAKING A NOVEL SORT OF CENSUS.

Number of Box Keys Used in Janesville Will be Found and the Fund Laid By to Redeem Them Can Be Cut Down to Smaller Proportions.

Probably you got one of those Billy Dooos with your mail:

PERSONAL TO BOX RENTERS. You will please bring to the money order room for inspection, all of the keys in your possession belonging to your postoffice box (or boxes) together with the receipts given you by the postmaster for the amount deposited therefor.

Unless this is attended to, boxes will be declared "vacant," by order of the postmaster general, Washington, D. C.

A. O. WILSON, P. M.
Janesville, Wis., August, 1895.

And probably you wondered what it meant.

So did other folks.

But don't lose any sleep over it. This good and glorious government does not suspect you of counterfeiting, stealing stamps or anything else of that nature. The note states a simple business proposition, and there is no hidden danger in it. The fact of the matter is something like this:

Every nook and cranny in which a dollar could lodge is being sought by this administration, for down in Washington the wheels have been squeaking angrily for lack of oil. When you rent a postoffice box, you know, you have to pay fifty cents for a key. That is given back when you return the key. But, where two men take out keys, only a half of a man, or in about that proportion, calls for his money.

Consequently Postmaster Wilson has about $300 piled up in his bank that represents the key fund, while only about one hundred and twenty-five keys are out. This is equally true of other towns and thus the money our government fathers have tied up in this particular branch of the business is considerable. So they proposed to find out just how many keys are out at each office, and transfer the surplus in the key fund to some other fund where it will help patch up the treasury deficit.

When, in response to these circulars, Postmaster Wilson finds out just how many keys he has out, he will notify the government, and they will tell him what to do with the surplus. Now, don't delay reporting, for funds are scarce in Washington and every dollar will be needed until republicans get in and put the national revenues on a sound basis.

ART LEAGUE TO NAME OFFICERS

Annual Election to Be Held Tomorrow Afternoon at the League Rooms.

Officers of the Janesville Art League will be elected at the meeting tomorrow afternoon in the league rooms. The work of the season will also be laid out. French Art is the theme chosen for the winter. The following notice is sent out:

The Janesville Art League begins the work of the season of 1895-6 under very auspicious circumstances, having at this time a membership of forty-four persons. The study course in French art had been adopted for the year's work, interspersed with lectures and exhibitions. An exhibition similar to the one held last spring, except that it will be much larger and finer, will be given in a few months, and an exhibition and sale of work of the members will be held Christmas week. The league will meet Friday, September 6, at 3 o'clock, in the league rooms, for the annual election of officers, and the transaction of any business which may properly come before the meeting. All members of the league are urged to be present, as well as all others who may be interested in the work and who desire to become members. An associate membership has recently been provided for, and those who are interested in art in any form, will be gladly received by the league, as members either active or associate. The yearly dues, $1.50, are also payable at this meeting. Mrs. ELLA HOTELLING TANBERG, Pres. Mrs. HUGH MENZIES, Sec.

The League has adopted the following amendments to the constitution:

Section I. Any member of the League may become an associate member on application.

Section II. Any associate member shall not be entitled to hold office or vote and shall be exempt from all duties and fines.

Section III. There shall be a roll call of members of the League at 3 o'clock each Friday afternoon from the first of September until the last of June each year, and any members not present at roll call shall be fined five cents.

Section IV. These fines shall be paid on or before the first meeting in September, and if not then paid shall be charged as delinquent dues.

Section V. The annual dues of this League shall be one dollar and a half ($1.50), including the dues of the Central Art Association of America, and shall be payable at each annual election of officers.

TRUNK TOLD THE WHOLE STORY

Young Couple's Wedding Announced By Their Thoroughly Decorated Baggage

Baggage men had fun looking at a trunk that came to Janesville on the "accommodation" last night. It was a big trunk but its size wasn't what distinguished it. It was a bridal-trunk and it had come 1,800 miles. The couple that owned it didn't come on the same train, so they didn't see it, but when they got to the Janesville depot and went to claim their property they had a surprise. After the wedding, while they were preparing to take the train their friends had tacked an American flag across one end of the Saratoga, had tied two old shoes to one of the handles, twisted white ribbon in every direction, tucked cloth under the edges so that it looked as if the contents were bursting out, and wherever a vacant space remained they pasted Castoria and Soothing Syrup labels. Very tender handling that trunk got for no man wanted to damage even the frailest bow.

A MAN giving his name as Patrick Dolan, was arrested near Marinette on suspicion of being connected with the Iron Mountain murder.

G. R. MARSH, an inmate of the Northern hospital at Oshkosh, made his escape and returned to his home in Depere. Marsh was at one time a wealthy man.

MISS MAGGIE MANGON, a Fond du Lac girl, was married to John Doyle, the alleged car thief, in the corridor of the county jail at Oshkosh, by Justice Crozier. After a two-hours' visit with her husband in his cell, the newly-made bride took the train for her home in Fond du Lac.

VACCINE IN GLASS; NO MORE POINTS

LOCAL PHYSICIANS WELCOME
THE INNOVATION.

Hollow Needles Full of Virus Hermetically Sealed, Will Take the Place of the Old Ivory Slips, they Declare—Cost The Same and Are Much Safer.

Good bye to the vaccine point. Its day has passed.

Instead of putting virus on a little slip of ivory exposed to all sorts of contamination, the vaccine farmer is to seal up a drop in a delicate hollow needle of glass.

When Baby goes to be vaccinated the doctor will scratch his unwilling right arm with a lancet, then break the tiny glass tube and let the drop of virus fall on the scratch. He will work it in a moment, and three days afterward Baby will have a red lump on his arm, and will dream that a hornet is sitting there.

Samples of the new virus tubes came to town today—the first that have been received. Dr. James Mills, who saw the same expedient used in Germany, received a little nest of tubes from the Chicago wholesale house that has a temporary monopoly on the supply.

"Nothing else is used in Germany now," said Dr. Mills to a reporter.

"The old points have been discarded as dangerous. The microscope shows them to harbor all sorts of bacteria.

For some time German physicians have used the glass 'needles' exclusively as the virus is preserved in them perfectly from sepsis. A German in Milwaukee is the only man who is making them in this country and he is disposing of his output to a Chicago wholesale house. The price asked is no greater than that of the points, although the quantity of virus is double."

Doctors think the use of glass tubes will have an effect in lessening the constitutional disturbances that followed vaccination in so many cases last year. Poison on the points is believed to be responsible for this.

A REMARKABLE CURE.

A CASE OF PILES OF EIGHTEEN YEARS STANDING.

Cured by the Pyramid Pile Cure.

There are plenty of pile cures which give relief and sometimes cure a mild case of piles, but there is only one which can be depended upon with certainty to cure obstinate, long standing cases, and that is the Pyramid Pile Cure.

Endorsements and testimonials are received daily from men and women whose integrity and reliability are above question and in this connection a letter received from the Rev. Jas. H. Wesbrook, of Bowne, Mich., may be of interest to piles sufferers who have sought in vain for a cure. He says:

I have used the Pyramid Pile Cure and I know that it is all that is claimed for it. I had been troubled with piles more or less for about eighteen years and I had tried other remedies, but the piles grew worse until about ten months ago I used the Pyramid Pile Cure. It gave almost instant relief and I have been free from piles ever since. Rev. Jas. H. Wesbrook.

The remedy seems to act equally well in every form of piles, blind, bleeding, protruding or itching. It stops all pain almost immediately, allays irritation and removes constipation, and anyone who has suffered the annoyance and pain of a rectal trouble will appreciate the excellent results which invariably follow the first application of the Pyramid.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is prepared by the Pyramid Drug Co. of Albion, Mich., and for sale by druggists everywhere. Two sizes, 50 Cents and $1. Sold by all druggists.

Bank Depositors Indignant.

Stom Lake, Iowa, Sept. 4.—Great excitement prevails over the closing of the Buena Vista State Bank. Depositors are largely poor people, with the earnings of years intrusted to the bank. It would only need a word to lead to deeds of violence, the business methods of the Lemon family, who ran the institution, having caused great indignation. Examiner Bennett says that examinations indicate that it has a capital of $50,000, and $65,000 of deposits, rediscunts and money due other banks. The bills receivable amount to $81,000, of which about $35,000 are regarded by the auditors as practically worthless.

In an Earthquake.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 4.—Capt. Hendrickson, commanding the Norwegian steamship Gurly, which has arrived here, reports experiencing, at an early hour Sunday morning, the earthquake. At the time it was "dead calm" and suddenly the sea rose up and the ship dived down deep into the water. The waves flooded the decks and the sea boiled and bubbled up in a furious manner. All hands were terrified and the commotion lasted fully thirty minutes before it settled.

Arizona Pioneer Dead.

Prescott, Arizona, Sept. 4.—Judge Henry F. Fluedy, who came to Arizona with the first set of territorial officers in 1863, died here last night of nervous disease. Judge Fluedy came here from Brooklyn, N. Y., where his relatives still reside. He was over 80 years old.

Short Intervals of Peace

Only are vouchsafed to nerves weak and unstrung, but when it is brewed up and soothed by Hostetter's Stomach Balm, perfect tranquillity reigns night and day throughout the nervous system. Nervousness is usually a manifestation of chronic dyspepsia, a disorder to the relief of which the Balm is peculiarly adapted. In the general vigor brought about by complete digestion and assimilation, two functions which are the mainstay of health, the nerves of course flourish. Nervous people should use it steadily, not at uncertain intervals. The bilious and constipated, and those troubled with malaria, rheumatism and kidney trouble, also derive unspeakable benefit from it. The aged and infirm find that it tends greatly to lessen their physical troubles and persons slowly recovering strength after an exhausting illness convalesce more rapidly when it is resorted to. It is, moreover, a capital appetizer.

Children, especially infants, are soon run down with cholera infantum or "summer complaint." Don't wait to determine, but give De Witt's Colic or Cholera Cure promptly, you can rely on it. Use no other. C. D. Stevens.

COMPARE THE PARTIES.
It is not an uncommon thing for democrats to assert that the two parties occupy about the same position on silver. The attitude of the representatives of the parties in congress utterly refutes this assertion. There are free silver men in both parties, it is true, but in the republican party they are only a small and by no means influential minority, while in the democratic party they are in the majority. Out of the 344 republican representatives in the new congress, 220 place themselves on record against free coinage. Out of 105 democrats, seventy-five favor the free coinage of silver and only thirty oppose it. That is, about nine out of ten republicans are sound on this issue and more than two democrats out of three are unsound.

THE COAL WAR LESSON.
There is one feature of the coal war that is especially satisfactory and that is the testimony it furnishes of the inherent weakness of great extortionate combinations of capital. The relief which is afforded the consumers of coal is a great gain, but it is of minor consequence compared with the demonstration of the inherent liability of combinations formed for extortion, and which undertake to hold in suspense and to defeat the law of competition, to attack from within or without, or from both sides at once. As an example of this the war within the combination is worthy of consideration.

The move toward shorter political campaigns is meeting with strong encouragement. The leaders of all parties appear to be of the opinion that it is a waste of time and energy to devote seven months to the discussion of present questions and claims of candidates representing them. These campaigns are always more or less detrimental to business and industrial interests. They divert attention from the ordinary affairs of life and cause men to neglect duties and responsibilities that are more important, generally speaking, than those of politics. Let's have short campaigns but lively ones.

Fox river people are not in the best of moods even yet, over the government's action. Says the Kaukauna Times: "General Doe's attention is called to the fact that a heavy rain fell here Tuesday and that a portion of the water escaped down the river. This leakage should be attended to at once, as the boatmen really need it all."

If a continuance of dry Sundays in New York mean weekly earthquakes, old Pluto should be pacified by having a pipe line for his own private use. His interest in New York has always been close, but thorough irrigation may divert his attention.

J. Keir Hardie isn't doing a good business. He came too soon after his fellow member of parliament, John Burns, and found that Burns had glutted the market. A little of that sort of agitation goes a great ways.

Cholera has been turned back often at the Atlantic sea board. There is danger that it will now gain a foothold in the Chinese colonies on the Pacific coast. Let neither door be unguarded.

STORM AT ROCKFORD, ILL.
Heavy Rainfall and Many Fires Started by Lightning.

Rockford, Ill., Sept. 5.—The most severe electrical storm of the season passed over Rockford early yesterday, rain falling in torrents for several hours. The fire department was called out half a dozen times to extinguish blazes started by lightning. The residences of Hosmer C. Porter was quite seriously damaged by fire and water. The immense smokestack on the city railway power house was struck, toppling over on to the pleasure steamers Queen and McDermaid, smashing them almost to pieces. The barns of the Forest City Baking Company and a number of houses were more or less damaged by fire, resulting from the lightning. Much hail fell during the storm, which was in the nature of a tornado.

Storm Swept a Wide Section.
Chicago, Sept. 5.—With terrific force the wind and electric storm that held Chicago at its mercy Tuesday, swept over a large section of country, leaving destruction in its wake. Throughout Illinois, Missouri and Indiana the fury of the storm was greatest, and in some places had all the elements of a hurricane. Much damage to property and to the crops is reported.

Will Be Against Sugar Planters.
Washington, Sept. 5.—Controller Bowler of the treasury will render his decision to-day in the sugar bounty cases. It will be against the sugar planters, and will result in the refusal of the controller to pay over to them the $5,269,000 appropriated by the last congress for bounties under the McKinley tariff act, which bounties were ended by the new tariff law.

Chicago's Postoffice Damaged.
BABY carriage, plush upholstery, rubber tires, $11, at V. Heacock's.

Time by the Forelock.
Doctor—From now you may let your husband have a glass of beer every day—do you understand?
Wife—Yes, doctor, just one glass a day.
Doctor (a week later)—Now, I hope you have kept strictly to one glass per day that I allowed your husband to take?
Wife—Most decidedly, doctor—only he is four weeks in advance with his allowance.—El Liberal.
Placing Him.
She turned upon him imperiously: "What have you to say for yourself?"
The dude cowered before her, abashed, and then passed through the door without a word.
She shook her head sadly.
"Once more is the old saying verified: 'It goes without saying!'"
She gently locked the door behind him.—Truth.

Varied Generosity.
Although she had a gift, as people said, A generous gift of song from nature free, Her dear papa with rage fell nearly dead At finding each short lesson cost a V.—Puck.

SHE GOT IT STRAIGHT.

No. One—There, I have written the ad. Shall I read it?
No. Two—Cert.
No. One—Wanted—Two valettes for bachelor girls; must know how to curl hair and ride a bicycle.—Brooklyn Life.

Feminine Logic.
Madame comes home from the theater and finds Minna, the servant, sitting in the kitchen reading a book by the light of two candles. She is very naturally annoyed at the girl's extravagance.
"Why, Minna, actually reading novels with two candles burning?"
"Not at all, ma'am," was the cool reply; "that's only one candle! I just cut it in two half an hour ago."—Once a Week.

On the Test.
Millie—If you were in love with two men, and didn't know which one to choose, what would you do?
Tillie—Put them to test.
Millie—A duel?
Tillie—Nothing so absurd. Walk them both by an ice-cream parlor, and see which one turns palest.—Toledo Blade.

Two-fers.
"Have a cigar," said Flowers, as Hargreaves came into the office. "Wilson was passing them around. He has a new baby at his house."
Hargreaves took one, tried it for three puffs and dropped it on the floor. "Ah! About his fourth baby, I should judge," was all he said.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Knew Him.
He (on the piazza)—It's so dark I can't see. Isn't that another couple next to us?
She—Yes, and he is trying to kiss her.
He—Can you see so well as that?
She—Oh, no. But I know who she is with.—Brooklyn Life.

He Objected.
Wife—George, didn't you say you were the heaviest batter in the nine last summer?
Husband—Yes, dear.
Wife—Well, would you mind beating a carpet for me about half an hour?—Texas Siftings.

Made a Hit.
"I suppose you had the audience with you last night."
"Well, most of them were in the box office with the ticket seller."
"What were they doing there?"
"Trying to get their money back."—Town Topics.

Preferred Consciousness.
She—If you should hypnotize me and kiss me while I was under the influence, would I know it or remember anything about it?
He—You would not.
She (after reflection)—Then, please don't hypnotize me.—N. Y. World.

Nothing In It.
Mrs. Johns—Don't you believe it's true, John, that a person partakes to a considerable extent of the nature of the creatures he eats?
Mr. Billus—No. I've been eating fish all my life and I can't swim a stroke.—Chicago Tribune.

Probably Perjured Himself.
Judge (to witness)—Have you ever taken an oath before?
Witness—Oh, yes; several times.
Judge (to witness)—When was that?
Witness—When I was in love.—Tampabay Times.

A Peculiar Man.
Brown—Don't you think Smith is an exceptionally modest man?
Jones—Yes, indeed. I never heard him claim that his rheumatism was the worst on record.—Puck.

Exciting.
Husband—I see that a woman was killed while trying to get to a bargain counter yesterday.
Wife—What a splendid time the rest of the women must have had!—Truth.

Absurd.
"What were your husband's last words?"
"He didn't have any."—Harper's Bazar.

OUTING SUITS.
Tan and Canvas Shoes For the Country. Bicycle Suits.

Tan shoes are universally used for seaside and country wear and are said to be much cooler and softer than black ones. White or ecru canvas shoes are recommended as still better, however, and as they are made of a becoming shape and are not expensive it is easy to give them a trial. For long walks they are light, soft and perfectly comfortable, and they keep their beauty longer than kid or leather shoes, which are ruined by sharp stones and moisture.

An expensive bicycling suit is not absolutely essential to a full enjoyment of the wheel. Elaborate costumes can be bought or made to order and are exceedingly pretty and convenient, but a satisfactory one

BABY'S WEE FINGER: PAPA'S BIG FIST

MRS. MAURICE WALTERS AND HER WOE.

She Tries To Improve the Table Manners of Her Offspring and Complains That Being Pitched From the Dining Room is Her Only Reward.

FINGER SUCKING CASE—May her mother keep her own baby from thumb-sucking? Shall fond maternal efforts to inculcate good manners be rebuked with blows? Mrs. Maurice Walters wants to know. Mrs. Walters came to see Judge Phelps this morning. Said baby insisted on putting his finger in his mouth at table. She scolded. Baby persisted. Mother feared fingers might be lost and pulled them out. Father interfered. Said baby looked "cute." Question of principle at once arose. Mother pulled baby's fingers out again. Father pitched mother out of dining room. Mother came back; was hit on head. Judge Phelps heard the story but before a warrant was made out for Walters' arrest it was found that he lived just over the Walworth county line. Informal change of venue taken by angry wife and mother. One of husband's bosom friends haunts court room all afternoon trying to learn what she intended to do.

BAKET PICNIC—A party of young people most of them members of the Terpsichorean club went up the river on the steamer Columbia last evening, ate a supper under the trees and danced in the moonlight. A club that will hold parties twice a month in winter and will gather up the river about as often as that in summer is likely to result from the excursion.

COLLAR BONE BROKEN—Mable Mooney, the five year old daughter of Conductor Charles P. Mooney, of 154 Center avenue, fell out of a hammock at her home and broke her collar bone. Dr. E. H. Woods reduced the fracture.

OYSTERS IN FAVOR—The hot weather doesn't stop people from eating oysters and pork, now that there is a R in the month. Most of the oyster customers today, however, took their bivalves raw and on ice.

ROLLER AT WORK—Pleasant street was put under the roller this morning, a layer of clay and gravel being packed down under the direction of Commissioner Watson and the aldermen of the Fifth ward.

THOSE RAZOR TOES in fall shoes for men are very pretty. Our list of sizes is complete; any foot on any man that pretends to walk. Don't miss seeing them. Becker & Woodruff.

MORE BALL—Edgerton and Evansville talk of another ball game next week and Stoughton and Madison are bidding for it. But neither one could furnish the crowd Janesville would.

HARVEST EXCURSIONISTS—Several Janesville people are planning to take cheap trips through the west on harvest excursion tickets this fall. One party leaves September 10.

HAVE YOU GOT to have a new engrain carpet? Our line is now complete with the standard makes—Lowell, Hartford and Parks. Our prices are right. Bort, Bailey & Co.

WATER SHUT OFF—The water was shut off on West Milwaukee street from 1:30 to 4:30 this afternoon, while changes were made in the connection of the drinking fountain.

The Christ church cadets will give a photographic entertainment at the parish house Tuesday evening, September 10. Tickets 25 cents. Children under 12, 15 cents.

To be complete in your dress, you should wear a leather belt. We have a stock of them this year; patterns that we are closing out at cost. Frank H. Baack.

CAKE SALE—The ladies' society of All Souls church, will hold a sale of cakes, cookies, bread and biscuits Saturday morning in the Carrington office.

OUR fall goods are dandies throughout both in men and women's shoes. All the latest styles of toes and the prettiest of shapes. Becker & Woodruff.

CUT glass tumblers, strawberry, diamond and fan cutting 25 cents each at Wheelock's.

TENTS made, sold and rented, and repairing done. L. S. Hillbrandt.

MARK THEIR SILVER WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Buob Entertain Three Hundred Friends in Hospitable Fashion. Mr. and Mrs. M. Buob, of this city, celebrated their silver wedding last night. Three hundred guests were present, a number being from Chicago. Tuckwood's orchestra furnished music for the dancers in one room, while in another room card tables found favor. The north room had been reserved for the banquet hall and had been decorated with sunflowers and green vines. The long tables groaned under the weight of the good things to which there seemed to be no end. The supper was very elaborate and tables tastefully arranged.

BYERS IS A BAD BOY AND GOES TO WAUPUN

ONE YEAR FOR STEALING A PAIR OF SHOES.

Second Offense Helps to Break Up a Gang of Young Toughs—Paddy Mulcairns Grabbed By Police While He Rested Quietly on a Porch.

Ernest Byers, too boyish looking for a professional crook, but with a bad record, pleaded guilty to larceny this morning and took one year in Waupun.

Byers is a slender, hollow checked youth who is said to have come here from Chicago because "country jays were easier." He and a gang of the same sort have been living by petty thefts—stealing lap robes, whips, groceries, in fact anything that could be eaten, drank or sold. He was convicted, a while ago, of stealing canned goods from W. F. Carle's grocery and District Attorney Jackson filed information against him this time under the "second offense" statute. That made the theft of a pair of $6 patent leather shoes from Becker & Woodruff's a state prison offense and Judge Phelps passed sentence accordingly. Mulcairns Sorry He Rested.

Paddy Mulcairns dodged the police all day yesterday. He played hide and seek with them around the outskirts of town, for he can run like a ghost. About 10 o'clock the officers heard he was out beyond Monterey and Chief Acheson and Officer Hogan went out to see. Mulcairns was sitting on a front porch where he could survey the road in both directions. The officers knew a trick worth two of this. They approached through the back yard. Chief Acheson deployed himself in skirmish line to guard the rear and Hogan crept around the corner of the house. Mulcairns' dog snapped and barked at his heels but Mulcairns suspected nothing until the big officer made a jump across the corner of the stoop and got him by the neck. The charge against Mulcairns is the larceny of $10 from Con O'Leary's pocket.

PASSED TO THE SHORE BEYOND.

Mrs. James S. Haggart.

Weeks of suffering patiently and uncomplainingly borne, were ended by the death of Mrs. James S. Haggart, at 2:30 this morning. Her death occurred at the family home, 154 S. Franklin street. Mrs. Haggart had been suffering from an abscess in the brain and had endured the most trying agony without the possibility of relief from medical skill.

The courage with which she met her last illness was but an index to Mrs. Haggart's whole life. She was especially devoted to her three boys—Harry S., James D. and George D., and made her influence something that will be cherished by them through life. She was born April 28, 1853, her maiden name being Mary E. Leahy. Her marriage took place March 20, 1875. Always of a devout mind she was a faithful and consistent member of St. Patrick's church, but the good she did was not limited by denominational lines.

The funeral will be held at the house at 3 o'clock, and at St. Patrick's church at 3:45 tomorrow afternoon.

REUNION OF THE FOURTH BATTERY.

The Fourth Wisconsin Battery association held its twenty-sixth annual meeting at Beloit, with a good attendance. The new officers elected were: President, John Kline, Beloit; vice president, Jacob Newman, Sharon; secretary and treasurer, W. L. Austin, Beloit. Three deaths have occurred in the association during the past year.

JANESVILLE WATER IN DEMAND

Pope Springs Article Is Selling Fast At a Dollar a Gallon.

W. H. Burr says Mus-Kick-Ke-Wau-boe spring will make Janesville the Carlsbad of America. Large shipments of the water go to Milwaukee daily and a large shipment recently left for Long Branch. A dollar a gallon is the price. When Rock County spring water sells for that who wants a gold mine?

HAND TORN BY BARBED WIRE

Accident Results From Getting the Tension Too High On a Fence.

T. O'Brien stretched a strand of barbed wire too tight while building a barbed wire fence this morning. The wire slipped and tore the back of his right hand so that a streak of blood marked his course to Dr. C. L. Clark's office. The injury was not sufficient to stiffen the hand, however.

Noticeable Drives.

We are starting in early to bring before you a hundred lines of fresh new dry goods purchased by our buyer in the eastern markets for cash on a basis full 20 per cent. below any former price. Each day now brings new stuff and we tell you frankly we shall mark all new fall goods at margins of about half what merchants usually expect to get. "A humble sixpence is better than a slow shilling." We are thoroughly in earnest about this and are so certainly doing this very thing, that it seems as if you all should know it and take advantage of it. Bort, Bailey & Co.

ANDERSON WILL RAISE FRUIT.

Former C. & N. W. Conductor Buys a Fruit Farm at Los Angeles, Cal.

George E. Anderson, ex-conductor of the "accommodation" and potent in a real estate way, is going to leave town. He has bought a fruit ranch in California and in two weeks will be on the way west with his family. While he was west in July, Mr. Anderson traded Minnesota land for a ten-acre irrigated fruit farm at Cavinna, twenty-five miles east of Los Angeles. He decided that California should be his home just as soon as he could arrange things. So he came back, sold his home, 179 Terrace street, to George Crouse, settled up his business and is now packing up. The farm he has is one of the high-pressure, concentrated effort affairs on which such quantities of fruit are raised. Not an inch is wasted, and every modern improvement is used. The trees now in bearing are 540 Washington naval oranges, 275 Eureka lemons, six peaches, two apricots, three walnuts, two figs, three plums, two pears, two crabs, sixty rose bushes of twenty-eight different varieties, and strawberries, peanuts, etc., until you can't rest.

There will be six in the Anderson party, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Anderson's son, Mrs. Samuel Fisher and two friends of Mrs. Fisher.

LIEUT. L. T. RICHARDSON IN A WRECK

His Steamer Ran Down in a Fog While Crossing the English Channels.

When Lieutenant L. T. Richardson gets back to Janesville a few days from now he can pose as a shipwrecked warrior. He came so near visiting the fishes in the English channel that his hair might well have stood on end. The boat he was on was stuck by another in a dense fog and sank in twenty minutes. Every passenger got on the other boat and even the baggage was nearly all saved.

"I was sitting below in the salon writing a letter," said Lieutenant Richardson to an English reporter who interviewed him. "The first thing I knew there was a crash and people began to yell that the boat was sinking. I hurried on deck and found the passengers all excitement. Our boat, the Sanford, had been struck by the Lion, bound in the opposite direction. A big hole was made in her hull and she was sinking. Hawes were passed to the other boat and the two were lashed side by side. The passengers were then hurried over to the deck of the Lion. In twenty minutes the Sanford filled and sank." Lieutenant Richardson will be in this city but a few days on his return as he must report for duty in the west Sept. 15.

KEG-RUSHERS GO BACK TO WORK

A Few of the Men Laid off by the C. & N. W. Reemployed.

Superintendent Moulton is reemploying a few of the men who were laid off two months ago for keg-rushing along the river bank. He was assured that the two months' lay-off would be a sufficient lesson and that the men would not offend again. A majority of the men, however, are still out of work. There were nine in the party, and they had a keg of beer on the river bank near the brewery Sunday afternoon. They made themselves a nuisance and resisted officer Hogan when he attempted to disperse them. The superintendent learned of the affair through overhearing threats made by some of the men regarding Hogan, and made an investigation. His action in the matter was prompt and effectual, and there have been no reasons for complaint since.

PLOW BROKE HIS RIB; CITY PLOW, AT THAT

JOHN CALLAHAN THINKS HE DESERVES SALVE.

Aldermen Notified That a City Employee Was Responsible For the Accident That Disabled Him—Member of the Street Roller Gang Put on The Shelf.

John Callahan, a veteran in the city's service, is disabled by the breaking of a rib while working with the steam roller. He caused this notice to be served on some of the aldermen today.

"John Callahan was employed by the city August 21, working on West Milwaukee street, by direction of the street commissioner. Said Callahan was directed to steady the plow handle. James Heffran, also an employee of the city, and under the street commissioner's instructions was directed to furnish counter force on the plow handles. The plow handles slipped, through the negligence of the city's employee, striking said Callahan in the left breast fracturing a rib. Since this time said Callahan has not been able to work and demands payment for said loss from the city of Janesville."

The injured man says he is willing to be fair about it. He helped lay the first pavement on Milwaukee street thirty years ago.

"I don't want to tear down the city I have helped to build up," he declared, "and if the city pays me for the time I have lost I will be satisfied."

HOW EASILY THINGS GO WRONG!

Alas! how easily things go wrong,
A sigh too much or a kiss too long,
And there follows a mist and a weeping rain,
And life is never the same again.

Alas! how hardly things go right!
'Tis hard to watch on a summer's night,
For the sigh will come, and the kiss will stay,
And the summer's night is a winter's day.

And yet how easily things go right,
If the sigh and the kiss of a winter's night
Come deep from the soul in the stronger ray
That is born in the light of the winter's day!

And things can never go badly wrong
If the heart be true, and the love be strong.
For the mist, if it comes, and the weeping rain
Will be changed by the love into sunshine again.

—George MacDonald.

A FAIR DIVISION.

The poverty in the village was very general, and but for Pietro Gozzoli the keeper of the wineshop might have lowered his blinds and pulled his door to.

The fishing along the Naples coast had been bad for many weeks, and in Basilio every man is a fisherman and every woman a fisherman's wife or daughter. And so the poverty was great, and Pietro was the only man who still smoked a daily handful of cigarettes and still sat regularly in the wineshop.

He had been to England, and had come back with a fortune, and was independent of the vagaries of the fish and the weather. "Ah," sighed the villagers, as they placed their hands in their empty pockets, "what a lucky man is Pietro, and what a rich place that England must be!"

One day in the early spring, the news went about that this man of fortune was grown insatiable, and was going away again to make more music for the foreigners and to get yet more francesconi. And every fisherman was sick with envy that he, too, could not leave the barren harbor and go to the northern El Dorado. But Pietro Gozzoli alone was possessed of the great sum that was wanted to pay the steamboat people and to hire the organ.

And who would he take with him? Which of the dark-eyed village beauties would he invite to be his companion and to share his gains? Many were the longing looks thrown to him and many the prayers whispered to the saints by pretty ones whose fancy saw countless bright ribbons and sashes, the possessions of her who should be chosen.

A day or two more, and it was known that Tessa Pancia was the happy girl destined to be raised to opulence; and, early one morning, she and Pietro left Basilio for the long, dusty walk to Naples. And the next day they were standing on the deck of the steamer, watching the shore line die out as the sea grew deeper and bluer.

During the voyage he taught her the words of English he remembered and talked to her about the life in London; how that they were to work very hard and spend very little, that they might have much to take home with them. And she, still glad that she had found grace in his sight, smiled agreement to everything.

A week after they had walked out of Basilio, beautiful even in its poverty, they were citizens of the Italian colony in London, making music about the streets during the days and passing the nights in a garret in an evil smelling court at the back of Saffron Hill.

Pietro was the musician, and hour after hour for many hours he toiled at the organ handle, now with left hand, and now with right. Tessa carried the tray for the offerings of the passersby, and as she was pretty and begged with a charming smile, her apron pockets were usually heavy with copper coin when the evening and the time to return home came.

Then Pietro relieved her of the weight, and counted out the pence and took them to some shop near by and changed them for silver. When there was enough of silver, it was parted with for gold, and something was added to the little pile of savings.

These savings were kept in a tin box, hidden under a loose board in the corner of the room. Not a very good treasure chest, but Pietro did not understand the English banking system, and there was no one in Basilio rich enough to send money to for safe keeping.

Three years went by, and the yellow board was so increased that Tessa's eyes shone and her fancy wandered as Pietro counted and recounted it in the evenings.

"Shall we not go home to Basilio now?" she said as once she watched him. "Have we not enough?"

"No, not quite enough. We will stay this summer and go back when the foggy days come."

(Of course this was spoken in musical Italian, but I have brought it into English for the benefit of the one or two readers who otherwise might not understand.)

Tessa counted a little at the reply, and consoled herself by going out to talk to Filippo.

Filippo was a native of Sardinia who had lately come to London to enter the profession of ice cream merchant. But although it was early summer, the days were rather cold than hot, and there was no demand for ices, either lemon or raspberry, and Filippo was drifting toward bankruptcy.

His rent was owing and his barrow mortgaged, and he wept as he told Tessa of another unsuccessful day. And she wept too. An exceedingly foolish thing, for she had known Filippo only a month, and Pietro, whom she had known for years, had told her that he did not like the young adventurer in ice cream and that she must not talk with him.

Nevertheless she wept, and told him how sorry she was. And as the pity grew in her, she thought how much better looking he was than Pietro, and how tired she was of the streets, and how she longed to see the blue sea and sky again. Would Pietro give her a share of the savings and let her go?

But no, that would not be enough for two. Oh, why was not Pietro Filippo and Filippo Pietro?

How handsome he was, and he was but a boy, and Pietro was more than 40. She spoke her thoughts, and hope came to Filippo's face, and he took her hand and began a long, eager whispering. And at that moment Pietro chanced to pass, and saw them, and hesitated for a step or two, and scowled and went on. They were earnest in their whisperings and did not see his coming and his going.

"Tomorrow then, Tessa," said Filippo, "and together to my people. He will not know, and cannot follow."

"Yes, tomorrow." And she returned his kiss and went back to Pietro.

The next morning Pietro was unwell. Nothing serious, he said; his head ached a little, and he was tired and needed a rest. He would stay at home until the evening, and would then go to Cazzio's and play dominoes as usual, and be all right again in the morning. So that day Tessa pushed the organ about the streets without assistance.

But during part of the morning she rested and talked to Filippo, who seemed to have forsaken his barrow to follow her. Their talk resulted in some agreement, for, as he left her he said:

"Then, Tessa, I will be waiting at 8 with the tickets. And remember we must catch the boat, and you must manage that Pietro is out," and she replied:

"I will get it; he will be at Cazzio's at 8."

At dark she returned to the court, and, as she passed, Filippo nodded to her from the shadow of the corner and showed two tickets.

She climbed up the rickety staircase to the room she had shared with Pietro. He was not there; it must be done at once.

She crossed to the corner near the window. The board moved easily, and she felt for the tin box, and found it, and carried it to the lamp.

The box was very light, and fear came to her as she opened it and saw that it was empty save for a fold of dirty paper.

With trembling fingers she undid the paper, and held it to the lamp and read the words:

"Goodbye, Tessa. I have decided not to wait for the fogs. We will share now and part. You shall have Filippo and I the money that was here. Goodbye," written in Pietro's rude scrawl.

Filippo waited long at the corner, and at last crossed to the house, and, learning from the woman standing at the door that Pietro was out, walked up the stairway and into the room.

Then he, too, read the paper, and his sorrow was joined to Tessa's.—Edgar S. Turner in Sketch.

The Durham Rites.

The "Durham Rites" speak of a great store of ancient manuscripts possessed by the house to help the monks in their study. The "Rites" go on to say how the store included "the old ancient written doctors of the church, as other profane authors, with divers other holie men's works, so that every one dyd studye what Doctor pleased them best, havinge the Librarie at all times to go and studye in, besydes their carrells."

From the same "Rites" we learn that in the dormitory each monk had a little chamber to himself with a window, or a bit of a window, and in the window a desk for books, so that he could study, if he pleased, in the hours spent in the dormitory. Special directions were given that the monks and novices were not to be disturbed in their "carrells" while they were studying.

In their care for education in days when all training for the young, save in arms and field sports, was comparatively little thought of, the record of the monastic orders is an honorable one. Besides maintaining a "song school," the more important houses regularly trained their novices in other learning; and again, to use the words of the "Durham Rites," "yf the Maister dyd see that any of them were apte to learnyng and dyd applye his booke, and had a pregnant wyt withall, then the Maister dyd let the Prior have intelligence. Then straightway after, he was sent to Oxford to school." Other people, too, sent their sons to the monks for education, which was sometimes given freely and sometimes paid for.

Mention has been made of Oxford. The "Durham College," besides the pupils sent up from the abbey, admitted regular students. A purely monastic college as early as A. D. 1283 was founded in Oxford for 13 monks of St. Peter's abbey, Gloucester. This, before the end of the thirteenth century, developed into a great Benedictine house of learning, and a long list of abbots united together to maintain this Benedictine college at Oxford, which flourished until the reformation.—Quarterly Review.

A Fire Curtain of Water.

An effective device for the protection of buildings from fires in adjacent structures has been successfully tested in Boston. The idea worked out in the apparatus is to maintain a sheet of water between the fire and the building to be protected. This is done by placing on every open side of the building near the top a line of perforated piping for carrying water. The complete apparatus consists of a five inch standpipe, extending over the upper story. From it runs another pipe around the sides and front, from 2 1/2 to 4 inches in diameter. On the front are three revolving sprinklers, and one is placed at each exposed side, in the center. The arms are of bronze metal, slightly curved. At each end of the arms is a ball nozzle, such as is used by fire departments on regular hose lines. At the base of the standpipe is a Siamese connection for four lines of three inch hose. At the Boston test a fire department steamer furnished the power, and for about 15 minutes poured through the sprinkler a delivery of 1,000 gallons a minute, completely drenching the walls and keeping a continuous sheet of water from top to bottom.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

WINTER FABRICS.

To Keep Away Wrinkles—Crepon and Mohair Still Worn.

The following recipe is said to be efficacious against wrinkles: Take equal parts of bean and barley meal and mix with raw egg. When the mass is thoroughly hard and dry, it should be ground to a fine powder and made into an ointment with melted tallow and honey. A thick layer of this is applied to the face every day.

Combinations of color will be greatly worn during the autumn and early winter. Boucle and other goods in which two or three tints are interwoven will be fashionable in both dark and light effects. Beige, brown, dark blue, plum, dark green and black will all be in vogue.

Crepons continue to be fashionable, both of silk, wool and the two materials mixed. The rough, dull surface of the solid wool crepons renders them extremely serviceable and keeps them from showing spots, dust, etc., as do smoother goods.

Mohair and alpaca are departing from their pristine simplicity and are appearing in all sorts of fancy weaves and mingled tones. These new goods are the height of fashion.

Silks and velvets bid fair to be no less sumptuous this year than they were last winter. Striped silks, both moire and changeable, will be worn, the striped gown being often overlaid with a pattern of Louis Seize knots, foliage, flowers and similar designs. Patterns of blue, rose and geranium on a black ground will vie in brilliancy and richness with lace arabesques on a colored ground. Plaids and cashmere patterns will also be seen, and indeed the whole gamut of design will be run through by silk goods.

The sleeve is to be decidedly reduced, according to the latest Parisian news. The upper part is to be scantier and less protruberant, although the close, entirely plain sleeve is by no means revived as yet. Sleeves differing in material from the gown will still be worn, velvet or silk being employed with woolen goods.

The gown illustrated is of mauve glace taffeta, with a plain godet skirt. The bodice opens in front over a full vest of lace, which forms a short basque as far as the hips. The mauve silk forms a yoke extending over the curve of the shoulder and outlined by a narrow drapery of blue velvet held in place by choux of velvet secured by enameled buttons. Two straps of the same velvet are carried across the lace vest and similarly fastened. The full sleeves are of elbow length.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway will sell excursion tickets to Rockford, Ill., and return, at a fare and a third from August 31 to September 6 good for return until and including September 7, on account of the fair and races.

Where We Are Going.

"I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand as in what direction we are moving. To reach the port of heaven we must sail sometimes with the wind and sometimes against it—but we must sail and not drift or lie at anchor."—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

A Golden Harvest is now insured to the farmers of the west and Northwest, and in order that the people of the more Eastern states may see and realize the magnificent crop conditions which prevail along its lines, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R'y. has arranged a series of three (3) harvest excursions for August 29, September 10 and 24, for which round trip excursion tickets (good for return on any Friday from September 13 to October 11 inclusive) will be sold to various points in the West, Northwest and Southwest at the low rate of about one fare.

For further particulars apply to the nearest coupon ticket agent or address Geo. H. HEAFFORD, Gen'l. Passenger Agent, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R'y., Chicago.

For the above occasion the Northwestern line will sell excursion tickets at reduced rates to Freeport and return. Tickets on sale from September 9 to 13, inclusive, good for return passage to September 14, 1895. For tickets and full information apply to agents C. & N. W. Railway.

Less Than Half Rates to Louisville, Ky.

Tickets limited to return leaving Chicago not later than October 6, 1895. For tickets and full information apply to agents C. N. & W. R'y.

Narcoti-Cure

CURES THE TOBACCO HABIT IN 4 TO 10 DAYS OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Use All the Tobacco You Want Till Your "Craving" is Gone.

Narcoti-Cure is the only remedy in the world that acts directly on the nerves and drives the nicotine from the system in four to ten days. It leaves the patient in better health than before taking, and is warranted free from all injurious ingredients.

Narcoti-Cure is popular because it allows the patient to use all the tobacco he wants while under treatment, or until the "craving" and "hankering" are gone. It is then no sacrifice to throw away tobacco forever.

Narcoti-Cure is sold at the uniform price of $5 a bottle, and one bottle cures.

Money refunded if a cure is not effected when taken according to directions.

PROF. W. N. WAITE, Of Amherst, Mass., Chewed Tobacco For 46 Years, and Was Cured by Narcoti-Cure.

AMHERST, Mass., Feb. 8, 1895.

The Narcoti Chemical Co., Springfield, Mass.

Gentlemen:—Replying to yours of the 1st would say that I have used tobacco for 46 years and of late have consumed a 10 cent plug a day, besides smoking considerably. I commenced to use tobacco when I was only 11 years old, and have never been able to give up the habit until I took Narcoti-Cure, although I have tried other so-called remedies without effect. After using your remedy four days all "hankering" for chewing disappeared and in four days more smoking became unpleasant. I have no further desire for the weed, and experienced no bad effects, whatever. I am gaining flesh, and feel better than I have for a long time. To all who wish to be free from the tobacco habit I would say use Narcoti-Cure.

Yours truly, W. N. WAITE.

If your druggist is unable to give you full particulars about NARCOTI-CURE, send to us for Book of Particulars free, or send $5 for a bottle by mail.
